Full duplex Wireless Intercom System

A perfect communication between a production team and its operators during an event is very important. This can be for operators of Audio-, Light- and Video equipment, Camera operators as well as Referees in a sport event. For this type of communication we have available the Solidcom M1 Full-Duplex Wireless Intercom System. This professional wireless intercom system supports up to 8 team members, providing each of them with a wireless belt-pack and professional wired single-ear LEMO headset. Ideal for Full-Duplex wireless communication over distances up to 400 meters.

The system delivers clear and conversational communication without any interference. The system consists of a base station on a fixed position, wireless belt-packs and headsets for the users.

The system can be extended with a second base-station for an extra 8 users. More users, with cable based belt packs can be connected through the 2-wire or 5-wire connection. Because of this, the system can work together with almost all traditional intercom systems like Clearcom etc.

The users can be split into a maximum of 3 groups based on who has to communicate together during the event.
